ADMIRALITY ORDER,—Three first-rate, three second-rate, and four third-rate men-of-war are ordered to be brought foward at Sheerness dock-yard, ready for commissioning. India and China are reported as being the destination of some of them.

It is understood that these ships, are always to be kept in such a state of readiness for commissioning and proceeding to sea, as regards their hulls, that they shall neither require docking nor calking, nor any work to be performed on board, on being ordered for service, except to adapt the ports to the guns, and to take down any temporary ordinary fittings, such as shipkeepers' cabins, ordinary galleries, etc. To meet this intention the ships selected for advanced ships will be regularly docked in turn from time to time, to have their bottoms properly cleaned, etc., as necessary, so that they may be in such a state as to proceed to sea, when ordered, without risk of waiting to be decked for either a year or two. Should these intentions be acted upon, of which there is little doubt, a bona fale force of thirty sail of the line, the majority comprised of new ships, will be ready for service on any emergency, and fit for sea in the space of ten days or a fortnight. It is stated from Plymouth that the St. George, 120-Royal William, 120; Royal Adelaide, 110; Albion, 90; Canopus, 80; and the Clarence, Bombay, Foudrous, Milliam, "—[Sun].

The Vindictive. This fine Ship of 52 Guns and 500 Men, which came into our port last Sunday, working up most beautifully in the teeth of a strong breeze, is gone round to the domain to refit, she is to remain here for six weeks and then to proceed to Port Philips and Valperaiso, on her passage home. She did not reach further than Whampos, upotte Chinese Seas, her presence not being required at the seat of war, which had just been concluded. HONGKONG, THURSDAY, MARCH 2ND. 1813.

WE claim the attention of our readers to the interesting Official Communication, in our first page. We are confident our Mercantile Community will second the exertions of H. E.

to procure for us, so convenient a circulating medium as South American dollars, and that they will endeavour, as far as possible, to dispel the foolish prejudices of the Chinese in favour of the old Spanish dollars. It appears to be an uncontested fact, that the South American dollars ordinarily in circulation here are intrinsically, on an average, nearly 1 per cent more valuable than the old head dollars so much coveted by the Chinese, and which now, are at some 13 per Cent premium; whilst the South American are at about 6 per Cent discount. This state of things would seem to be quite incredible, but we are assured of its perfect correctness on undeniable authority.

We note that the Proclamation of H. E the Plenipotentiary of the 14th of April last, to the effect that owing to the scarcity of the Spanish pillar dollar, "Mexican and other Republican dollars shall be taken as and considered to be the Standard in all Government and Meroantile transactions at Hongkong &c." has been communicated by the Home Government to the Committee at Lloyds. At home generally, it is deemed a very expedient arrangement, and on the strength of its certain adoption, considerable Shipments hither of South American dollars have, we are told, already taken place.

At Singapore, there is no Agio ruling on the different kinds of dollars. Whatever the Dollar, whether old or new, Spanish or Republican, as a circulating medium and for remittance to India all rank at the same merchantable value

With every allowance for the prejudices of the Chinese; yet the increasing scarcity of the old pillar dollar, and the daily augmenting inconvenience of its retention as a Standard of value, must inevitably compel a change, hence, we wouldjurge the obvious importance of carrying into effect the above recommendation, and at as early a period as possible.

It would be very desirable, we think could some understanding be come to, with the Chinese dealers and Merchants prior to the abolition of the old System. If not to be accomplished, we hold it to be especially important that the duties under the New Chinese Tariff should be payable in Republican dollars. Such a Governmental Sanction, on the part of the Chinese Authorities of the proposed Standard currency, with the avowed sanction of II, E. the Plenipotentiary, and the cordial co-operation of our Merehants, would, we nothing doubt, accomplish the object we have in Communication with China. The importance of rapid intercoires between places of great commercial import is daily manifested, and a growing desire exists to perfect it. We know of no place that requires more nutention, with a view to accelerate and regulate the correspondence, than between this country and China, and we are glad to observe that a few of our Merchants are beginning to stir in the matter. We know from experience however, the apathy and want of unity in action, that exists in this City on questions of particular interests, when a combined movement would'd on on feason and justice. We do not intend to make any inviduous comparison, but when we see #29.006 an mailly disbursed from the apablic purse, to increase and accelerate communications between England and countries comparatively close at hand, and cartainly of less importance than our Indian possessions and China, we may fairly claim a little more attention to the subject; and nothing tends so much to enliven the minds of those in authority, than "gentle pressure from without." We therefore strongly recommend the merichants and others in China, India, and the Straits, whose interests, social and commercial, are deeply involved in the matter, to send home memorials urging their requests, with all the statistics and arguments that may be forcibly brought to bear upon so important a measure, as the regularity and dispatch of letters between China and England is.

THE above extract is from the ATLAS, which in its issue of Novr. 4th says, the last mail from China, via Bombay, took 120 days to reach London. Now this, is about double the time, that would be ordinarily required, had we the facilities of Steam Communication.

We are gratified to perceive the awaken ing interest on this subject at home. It has been our nim, to urge its importance on every fitting occasion. It is not necessary to present an array of statistical details and laboured arguments, to demonstrate the positive necessity of our partaking, of all the advantages of the quickest and most improved means of Communication with India and England

We may truly affirm that no branch of British Commerce, has received less attention from the Home Government than the China Trade. The almost perpetual state of warfare, either with Holland, Spain or France, which our history records, has sprung mainly from the contentions and rivalries of Commercial interests; whilst the only war in which we have involved our Country, has secured its own full indemnification, besides obtaining for us an augmentation of mercantile privileges of inappreciable value. Again, has not our staple article, Tea, during the last forty years, alone contributed in duty to the national Exchequer fully £ 150,000,000 ster-

When we see £320,000 per annum, granted by P rliament, in aid of Steam Communication with the West Indies and America; it really behaves us no longer to slumber or sleep. Adequate as is the existing trade, to render a beneficial return to the Peninsular and Ociental, or any other Company, which should undertake to complete a comprehensive plan of Steam Communication; yet the peculiarities of our social constitution, might prevent any Company, at present, from undertaking this line

Hence it is, that we venture to claim the attention of the Indian and Home Governments to our requirements. Lord Ellenborough has lately appropriated the sum of £40,000 in aid of a monthly communica-tion from Calcutta and Madras, direct to Sucz. Seeing there is already a monthly mail, via Bombay, this grant has been ca-villed at—we think unjustly. This circum-stance and the high ratelligence of the Governor General, leads us to hope, that he will not fail to perceive the vast advantages national and social, which must inevitably accrue from a regular Steam Communication with China.

At present, China takes from India, of its products, full £ 5,000,000 sterling annually; for a large portion of which she remits bullon. With the new Commercial Treaty, a great expansion of our Indian and English trade cannot but take place.

mits bullion. With the new Commercial Treaty, a great expansion of our Indian and English trade cannot but take place.

It is unnecessary to point out the magnitude of the manufacturing interests, at home, which are now, or will be, connected with the China Trade. Enough has seen said to satisfy the most-cursory observer that it is the bounden duty of the Indian and Home Governments, to connect Hongkong, and thus complete the links of Criental Steam Communication. The mental qualities both of Sir Robert Poel, and Lind Ellenborough, encourage us to hope that a proper representation if backed, as we trust it will be by HE, the Plenipotentia:

The Canton Passs having received late American Papers, now tells its readers, it copied the Californian Papers, now tells its copied t

Wu regret to have to record a lamentable accident, which happened at the Point, on Thursday last. These premises which are occupied by Messrs Jardine Matheson & Co, are now the busy scene of improvements and buildings, on a scale which surprises every beholder. One large 3 storied edifice, some 160 feet long and about 80 feet wide, intended, we are told, for the office and residence of a part of the establishment, and which was then being roofed in, suddenly gave way in the Eastern outer wall, burying in its ruins some of the workmen employed.

No blame whatever is attachable to the proprie-workmen employed.

No blame whatever is attachable to the proprietors, who have begrudged no expense to erect a durable and stable editice, and who moreover brought an Architect from Calcutta, expressly to superintend their constructions. His premature and much lamented demise, prevented the completion of his plans, or proper care being taken in the erection of a building of such magnitude. We are assured that the party superintending, all unused to such work, took care to avail himself of the best professional and scientific assistance, the Island at present affords, resent affords.

We hear the whole building is condemned, and will have to be entirely rebuilt. We trust this is not the case, as then, we apprehend the intended removal hither of the firm from Macao, will be further postponed. If so, this accident is a misfor-tune to the Colony.

We have per Horatto received New York papers to the 31st October. We perceive no notice of Warbetween Mexico and the United-States. It is certain Mexico, in her official correspondence, has adopted a tone, which is so far resented by America that such an event is by no means improbable. If so, it is not unlikely the first campaign, will see the Stars and Stripe's floating in the Mexican Capital. Great Britain and France, would however interfere to avert the subjugation of Moxico, and their friendly mediation would no doubt be acceptable to America.

The Whig Journals boast that the Revenue Bill lately passed, will give work to at least 250,000 persons and the means of a comfortable livelihood to about to ME MILLION, or one Seventeenth of the whole Population!! If so, the liberties of America have more to apprehend from bureaucracy, than aristocracy. We hope they may survive the hostility of both.

THE following extract from Messrs Trueman and Cooks Circular of 1st August has appeared in the Colomno Onserver, which concurs fully in its views. Our object in drawing the attention of our readers to it, is, that we hold it to be very likeour readers or his that we note it to be very more up a reduction of the Island duty on Cinnamon, will take place. Many of the Gardens, which belonged to Government are now in the hands of belonged to Government are now in the hands of private individuals, who have lately become the purchisers, at a very low cost, and have now a strong interest in procuring the abolition of this impolitic Impost. We think a sufficiently good case has been made out to cause a reduction to be made. We see no reason, why a heavier rate, ad valorem should be levied on Cinnamon than on Cofficient with the control of Carlon and the product of Carlon.

Should this view be taken in the proper quar-ters, it becomes worth while to consider what ef-fect such reduction, will have on the demand for fect such reduction will have on the demand for Cassia in the European markets. It is to be observed that Ceylon Cinnamon of the lower quality saw recently quoted in bond at 3s. per Ib. in London, which price, if we reckon the accruing charges and interest on the duty it paid on Shipment viz, 2s. per Ib. will be nearly the price in London of a relatively inferior article in Cassia.

We have not seen a correct estimate of the Cost of Cinnamon Cultivation, but judging by what we know of the rate at which Coffee and Sugar can be produced, and moreover remembering that Cin-namon is indigenous to Ceylon; we are disposed namon is indigenous to Ceylon; we are disposed to think it could be produced there, at a rate, which if the duty be taken off, would materially affect the growing consumption of Cassia.

As we are on the subject, we would venture to hint that a more careful selection of quality (when shipping Cassia), than is generally displayed would not be unattended with profit. The Chinese can themselves use up advantageously all the broken, discoloured, damaged and bad pieces; as from these they distil the Cassia oil.

Cinnanon.—The state of the Cinnamon Trade with Ceylon has, for some time past, been anxiously engaging the attention of those connected, with our Indian Commerce, who have had repeated commanications with Government on the subject. It does not admit of a doubt that unless the Export duty 62s, per lib payable on shipment at Ceylon, he removed, the trade must speedily be ammihitated.—On the Island being ceded to the British at the Peace of Amiens, the entire Trade for some time centred in the Cast India Company-for which Government received an unally a large sum. After the agreement with the Company ceased, the monopoly, established originally by the Dusto firm, whom the Island was taken, was continued till 1833, when it was fabilished, and the natives were allowed the right of cultivating Cinnamon where and as they pleased.—The Government Cinnamon was subsequently sold in Ceylon periodically, but, the rend to the remained subject to a duty on Export of no less than 32 per lb, equivalent to a least 300 per Court if has now been lowered to what has been stated, viz, 22, per lb on all qualities. From the year 1798 to 1825 the cultivation was known in no other part of the world, and notwithstanding the impoley-axen them of such are acroitiant charge the trade was thereby little affected; but in 1823 a successful attempt was mide in lawa by an experienced Planter from Ceylon, end time hippopley from that Island, which, having since been aqualmy inforcasing, no now setting for his periodic for Dru. per Cont. only. As we have mentioned this article, we may remark that it seems to be becoming of some importance in Australian Commerce. For this reason we would tell our Sydney readers we are inportance in Australian Commerce. For this reason we would tell our Sydney readers we are informed by a Merchant, well acquainted with the article, that the Sandal Wood, sent to this market should uniformly be barked, if possible, in solid, straight pieces of about 4 feet, in length and the thickness of a man's arm. The best is of a yellowish brown colour, with a strong scent. This sort is now worth about $6.50.7 per pecul and is considered at a very low rate. The Timor 1st quality at which possesses the above requisites, generally sanges between $ 18 per picul. The cargoes generally sent here by the Sydney Merchants, have contained a large proportion of spurious wood which is only worth its value as fuel.

It is easily distinguishable the grain being much courser, texture sponty, of course lighter, and without scent. The daty at Macao is on the best sort (which competes with the Timor) 14 per Cent advalorem. The other kinds 6, per Cent. A few years since the Import was 25 to 30,000 piculs. WE insert the following letter, although we disapprove of the tone of parts of it. The CANTON REGISTER has not been very scrupulous in many of its strictures on several occasions: but we confess our task is not a pleasant one, for we dislike the un-profitable proceeding of reflecting on our Contemporaries, unless urged to such a course by some very powerful motive.

The important announcement in last CANTON REGISTER, that the Editor would publish his remarks on the Co-hong in an Extra, to be dispatched by the Zephyr; for the enlightenment of the deplorably ignorant folks at home, naturally enough aroused one's curiosity; and I really did wade through this precious Document.

Document.

It would be wholly unworthy of the slightest notice, were it not, here, well known to accurately represent the opinions of the most-influential house in China on this subject.

this subject.

The whole article except the concluding remarks, of which more anon, is a stale compilation from the most accessible scources of information, and the best portion is taken verbatim et litteratim, without acknowledgement from the CHINESE COMMERCIA GUIDE of the Debat Marrian wide Days 28 st agesting. John Robert Morrison, vide Page 33 et passim.

For years past the China Merchants have been des-

For years past the China Merchants have been desperately clamorous, in their complaint against the Heng Monopoly. Every sin of ommission, and commission, has been conveniently referred to the Hong Monopoly. Their correspondents, good easy creatures, caught up the tone, agitated the people, pestered Parliament, during the Ministers, and even attacked the caught up the tone, agitated the people, pestered Parliament, dunned the Ministers, and even attacked the King-in cauncil, to procure the abolition of this most detestable and most obnoxious grievance.

Well the old-sytem is doomed, and we almost catch the sound of the caulting shout, which will hall the aunouncement in England of its approaching demise; when le! and behold! the complainants instead of asisting with gleesome alacrity at the obsequies, and deep burying it, aye, even screwing it into a patent iron coffin, never to rise again, now turn round and implore a reprieve, which being granted, are also using their best efforts to perpetuate the hideous Monster.

What must H. E. the Plenipotentiary think? What must He honest but deluded people of England think? when they are told by the pet Organ and Oracle of the principal Merchant in China, that the Cld System has a "beneficial influence on the foreign is Trade, for thesa fety and protection of the Foreigners, civil and commercial, from acts of violence and fraud on the part of the Natives; that the debts owing to Foreigners by the Hong-merchants, have been generally paid in the long run," &c. &c. Any comment is unnecessary.

roug-nerchands, have been generally paid in the long run, and the comment is unnecessar y.

In conclusion, the Editor as a succedaneum for the Old System, devises the notable expedient of a Joint Stock Company, which would possess all the vices of the Co-hong Monopoly, without its only virtue the Government Security !

the Co-hong Monopoly, without its only virtue the Government Security!

I have already accupied too much of your space, but please to refer to the Editor's Pamphlet, and I think you will find his argument for the continuance of the Company's Monopoly, was its being alone adequate to cope with the cunningly contrived oppression of the Co-hong System.

A reference to a liftle of the Register, will fix on the Editor the most glaring inconsistency, you have only to quote his own words in times past, with respect to the nog expiring, but then much abused klongs.

After such a specimen of versatility of talent, what may we not expect? we may perhaps yet see a funeral eulogium on the Hong Monopoly; which will bind upwith the Lugubrius Lament of Leadenhalt:

For the light of other days has faded.

And all its Glory's part."

I remain Your Obt. Servant, Mercaron.

The Gazette of Friday sets forth that the Queen The Gazzie of Triday sets forth that the Queen has been pleased to make, ordain, and establish, and constitute, the Church of the Holy Trinity, in the town of Gibraltar, to be a cathedral church and Bishop's See; and to ordain that the whole town of Gibraltar shall henceforth be a City, and be alled the City of Gibraltar. The church of Sh. David, in Hobart Town, is in like terms similarly ennobled.
