Colonial Secretary's Office, Hongkong, 5th November, 1887.

GOVERNMENT NOTIFICATION.

In view of the approaching illuminations, occupiers of houses and others are particularly requested to keep available for instant use buckets of water on the different floors of their houses.

They should also have ladles or other appliances ready at hand with which to dash the water on to any incipient flame. For this purpose the water will be laid on at all public hydrants for the greater portion of the day on the 7th and 8th instant.

H. E. WODEHOUSE,
Superintendent Fire Brigade.
