PENSION REGULATION.

No service other than service on the fixed establishment on full or half pay will be taken into account in computing pensions or retiring allowances, except that, where the service on the fixed establishment has been immediately preceded by an unbroken period of service on the temporary establishment, such period will be taken into account. Leave of absence on half salary will only be counted at the rate of one month for every two months of such leave, provided that vacation leave, in cases where full salary is not available, shall be counted as though it were leave with full salary. But leave taken before the end of 1886, inclusive of vacation leave taken (after June, 1876) in conjunction with half pay leave will to the extent of one-sixth of an Officer's resident service be counted as full service for pension.
