COLONIAL SECRETARY'S DEPARTMENT.

No. 44.—The attention of all persons who consume white rice and also of all large employers of coolie labour is directed to the fact that it is generally believed that the disease Beri-beri, which causes several hundred deaths in Hongkong each year, is produced by the consumption of white rice, as the staple article of diet, without a sufficiency of other foods.

It is important therefore that a sufficient quantity of fresh meat or of fresh fish should be eaten with the rice, but if this cannot be afforded beans should be eaten, in the proportion of not less than one quarter of a catty of beans to every catty of rice. The beans should be boiled with a small quantity of fresh pork or fresh fish to make a soup.

Colonial Secretary.
